

WRT 205: UNITS 2 + 3 REFLECTION

(Spring 2018/Constable)

In these units, we worked on creating a research proposal, locating and evaluating sources, and producing an audio visual presentation. In light of that work, please respond to the following prompts:

1. How did developing the research proposal help you to solidify ideas and find sources (you may include the interview) for the unit 3 project?

Developing the research proposal helped me concise my thoughts and help me connect my passion to mindfulness. By developing my ideas, it allowed to do a large amount of research in variety of places. I found articles online, books by famous authors, and scholar articles in bird and Carnegie library. It also helped me find entrepreneurs around my school as people in my life such as my dad.

2. What did you learn in unit 2 about finding, previewing, and evaluating sources (include the interview)?

In Unit 2, I learned a lot about the differences between reliable and unreliable sources by reading into context. For example, I realize articles that doesn't provided details such as someone names tend to be unreliable.

3. How did the literature review help you better understand your sources and their significance for the upcoming presentation?

The literature review help me better understand my sources and the significance for the upcoming presentation. Y writing the literature, I started question the sources I found and find ways to connect them altogether. This force me to look for new sources that helped connects all my ideas together. Furthermore by working on literature review and researching for my topic, I was exposed to many different from of presentation from renown significant who have achieve success in their field.

4. How did your rhetorical situation help you develop and shape the presentation? (Think about exigency, purpose, context, and audience [logos, pathos, ethos])

For my topic which is “does being mindful help entrepreneur achieve external success in their own specific field. For this topic, I thought the best point of view to look at it is through the eyes of an entrepreneur. In doing so, I have read, researched and watched experience entrepreneur talk about their experiences and interview. This gave me the confidence and experience to present in front of class with confidence and passion.

5. Additional thoughts or suggestions regarding these projects?

I really enjoy working on this project because it gave me chance to research my topic and passion. It also helped me acknowledge that mindfulness can be beneficial to my success in the future. It really opens my mind to new ideas and new topics.
